Gen Grant Back in England-

.LONDON, September 28.—Gen. Grant in replying to the various addresses he received at Sheffield to-day, referred to the American tariff and reminded his hearers that the United States had to raise money to pay off the great debt in curred by the war. The revenue from imports was regarded solely as a means of attaining that end. If the United States were to abolish the revenue from imports, the foreign bond-holders would very soon cry out when their interest was forthcoming. He added: "We jet along well enough with the payment of our debt, and will compete with you in your manufactures in the mar-lets of the world. The more of your who so lately sought to destroy it?' Upon arriving at the Norvell House the President and suite were conducted to the front portico, when Mr. Bocock, chairman of the reception committee, addressed his excellency, tendering, "on behalf of Lynchburg, a sincere welcome to the 'City of Hills,' which is the first Virginia city visited by him. Ohio was at one time a part of the territory of Virginia, and many parts of it were settled by brothers and relatives of the stitutional methods, but exists by the ancestors of the present generation of adjudication of a tribunal unknown to the Constitution, but whose award has terial control over it, but we have some claim to be heard by its sons without lesiring to incur the charge of boasting. He said the Virginia of olden times had certain characteristics for which she was distinguished all the country over. Her courtesy and warm-hearted hospitality have often been commended and she has never been supposed to be wanting in due respect to official position. We have passed through trying scenes, but it is hoped it may turn out that these qualities have suffered no diminution.

"Another characteristic equally marked is her unchanging devotion to what she considers the true principles of the constitution. She may err in judgment, but she judges candidly and adheres to her convictions most firmly. However dark the hour which may have fallen upon her, or however tempestuous the waters on which her bark may have been launched, there has been ever seen streaming from the masthead the motto, 'Principles and not men.'
"Recent events have given promi-

Local self-government has been restored to all, and South Carolina and Louisiana are now on an equality with Massachusetts and Michigan. And what has been the result? Magic itself could scarcely transform a scene more completely. Where there was sullen discontent there is now satisfaction. Angry bickerings and impending strife have given place to stillness and quiet, and in States cheerful performance of every duty. It has been found that by a proper enforcement of State laws the rights of all citizens are best protected. A sense of wrong being removed, good feeling and harmony have come to occupy its place, and the angel of peace like a halcyon now spreads its white and downy wings over our entire country.

"This has been done, Mr. President and truth requires the admission that your agency has been most potent in the work. A short time ago the land was filled with complaints of inefficiency and corruption in the civil service of the country, and the demand for reform was universal. The civil service order lately issaed by your administration was a bold and manly step in the right direction. Is there virtue and intelligence enough in the country to uphold and sustain it? Surely all good men desire such a result.

"We have seen, Mr. President, with pleasure the words of kindness you have spoken on your present tour. You have poken them in the North and in the South alike. Those were good words you used when you said that your cause was not the cause of of a party, but it was the cause of the constitution, the cause of the Union, the cause of ha mony, the cause of peace. These words will accomplish much good, and we know you have done these things not at the dictation of party leaders. So far as we can see or know you have lone them because they were right. Our action has no party significance whatsoever. We have come as patriotic citizens to acknowledge the facts. We have come as true and loyal Virginians to recognize our principles by whomso-ever avowed. We have come as honest men to say that your official acts in the particulars named have deserved no ondemnation. "The future must take care of its own ecord. The rehabilitation of all the States, the pacification of the public service and entire country is a great work. and if accomplished should fill the measure of a high ambition. If your efforts are to continue as they have be gun I can foresee great results ahead. nder inspiration of the thought a vison of the future comes before me. Train a giant for an encounter and he can be whipped by a pigamy—if you put out his eyes. The eyes of an army are its cavalry. Before Ewell crossed the Potomac General Lee wrote to General Stuart commanding the cavalry, in substance, as follows: "Ewell will cross the Potomac on a certain day, at a certain point. Hill will follow Ewell, crossing on a given day at a given point; gaps in the mountains, you will seize them and protect Longstreet's crossing; then follow Longstreet, throw

Stuart, probably thinking he could carry out General Lee's orders, and at the same time make a brilliant dash toward and threatening Washington, worked by his right flank, separating himself from Longstreet, crossing the Potomac between the enemy and Washington

City—making a swoop toward Washing-ton, then turning west to join the army of Northern Virginia, when he found the enemy had crossed the Potomac and were between him and that army. This necessitated his riding entirely around the Federal army, and brought him, whether from necessity or not I cannot say, to Carlisle, Pa. From this point he struck South and joined the Army of Northern Virginia, being late in the even-ing of July second. It is thus evident that so far as deriving any assistance from his cavalry from the —— of June to the evening of July second, it might as well have had no existence. Every officer who conversed with General Lee for several days previous to the battle of Gettysburg, well remembers having heard such expressions as these: "Can you tell me where General Stuart is?

Where on earth is my cavalry? "Have you any news of the enemy's movements?" "What is the enemy going to do?" ### The Newest Thing in Churches.

(Philadelphia Times.) Among the blessings showered a hardly appreciative world by the fami-ly of Beechers not the least important is an invention by Thomas K, the brother of Henry Ward, who lives at Elmira, in New York. This Doctor Beecher shares the Plymouth's ideas to the extent, at least, that any religion is etter than none, and that anything is better than to preach to empty benches. Addressing his powerful mind—was there ever a Beecher mind that wasa't powerful in its way ?-to the problem of making the house of God a popular place of resort, he has invented, and vill no doubt patent, a style of church which we are sure needs only to be known to become the rage wherever Beecherism, in the mild form propogated by Thomas K., has votaries. A church constructed on this principle is warranted to draw crowds in any weath er, and it is asserted by the local journal whence our item is clipped that al-ready the one in Elmira has thrown the other great institutions of the city, namely the Female Seminary and the Water Cure, completely in the back-grounds. How this can be will not be apparent to those who are familiar only with churches constructed and managed on the old-fashioned plan, but we have only to give details to convince the most Skeptical.

Briefly stated the underlying principle of the Elmira plan is the making of a church as little like a church as possible. The great thing to be kept in view is to make religion and religious association so subordinate to everything else that men and women who are seduced within the walls of the building will never suspect for a moment that they are in a furnished in the Eastlake style; the black walnut floors carpeted with rich rugs; the walls adorned with no pic-tures that are likely to give offense to the sensitive skeptic. Here there is a regular round of tea parties, kettledrums, game suppers, and, for aught we know, Germans, not to speak of such mild dissipations as sewing societies, which do anything else but sew. Convenient to this are the well-stocked pantry and a kitchen, with all the modern improvements, but the flavor of re-ligion is never obtruded in the culinary department any more than in the par-lors. Some of the Elmira people, how ever, did not succumb either to the par-lor or kitchen, and were equally proof against a lavishly supplied reading room o a billiard room was thoughtfully supplied for the recreation of the young men, and the tap of the cue and the kiss of the balls are now heard by day and by night. This again is supplemented by a cosy little theatre, playfully styled a "romp room" in the guide books and on the play bills. At one end of this apartment are the scenery, drop curtain, footlights, orchestra stall and all the other indispensable adjuncts of a play house. Here there are performances of a varied nature, but as a regular thing weeks for amusements in which stage effects are not necessary, and a high old time they have. The Shakespeare Club meets weekly in the reading room. We would like to say something about the place where Divine service is held, but no reference is made to it in the descriptions of the church furnished to the pub-lic. ### A Virgiuia View of Barringer's sion to the grounds.

[Petersburg Index-Appeal.] Gen. Rufus Barringer, one of the most prominent native Republicans of North Carolina, has written a recent letter, endorsing the policy of Presiden Hayes and prophecying from it all manner of good things to the people of every section. He attacks the carpet-baggers in sharp style, and attributes to them all the evils, political and material, that might have come upon the South during the period of Reconstruction. It is pertinently asked by some of our North it never occurred to Gen. Barringer and other respectable gentlemen like him, who now repudiate the carpet-baggers to denounce and eschew these gentry when they were in the bloom of their power, and while they were glutting themselves on the robbery of the conquered States. The exposure of carpet-baggery at such a time might have ac-complished some good for the relief of the people. It has much the appearance now of Jack Falstaff's performance in slaying the slam and stabbing the dead Percy at Shrewsbury fight. Not, however, to indulge in criminationsfor this is the era o' good will and re union, it is shrewdly surmised that Bar ringer, and others of like position and character with him, desire to build up an administration party in North Caro lina, discarding the elements which made the old organization so corrupt, and appealing to good men who may be disposed to hold up the liberal policy of President Hayes. We are sure that the scheme will not succeed. North Carolina has had quite a sufficient experience of Radicalism. Under whatever new name it may appear, it is the same old serpent as before. Gen. Barringer will have all his pains for naught, and the next Conservative majority will be still more rousing than that which sent Vance to his present perch.

What Every Body Says Must be True.

The incontrovertible testimony offered by those who have used 1st. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the doctor to sell it under a positive guarantee. Many ladies have refrained from using it on account of a general feeling of prejudice against advertised medicines. Let me ask a question. Are you prejudiced against sewing machines because you have seen them advertised? or can you doubt the skill and ingenuity required in their invention? Again, would you refuse to insure your house because the company advertised that it had paid millions in tosses, and yet had a capital of several millions? Do such advertisements shake your confidence, and create prej dices? Then why refuse to credit the test-mony of those who have found the Favorite Prescription to be all that is claimed for it in evercoming those aliments peculiar to your sex? Why submit to the use of harsh, and perhaps caustic treatment, thus aggravating your malady, when relief is guaranteed, and a p sitive, perfect, and pemanent cure has been effected in thousands of cases?

North Caroliniaus who know him. This delegation of "good men and true," of which any State might be proud, can do much for North Carolina in the coming session of Congress, if they unite in their efforts. "In union there is strength." It would be a most agreeable sight to see our Senators and Representatives uniting in their action regarding certain measures, which we believe the people of North Carolina have much at heart. We wish to see North Carolina give "solid shots" against an increase of the Federal Army, and in favor of an enlargement of the annual appropriation by Congress for the arming and equipping of the militia; a modification of the revenue system; the repeal of the resumption act; the remonetization of silver; and an increase of postal facilities. There are many other measures, of course, on which we would like to see the representatives of North Carolina in the House and in the Senate acting in perfect accord; but the measures above enumerated are of prime importance, and nothing should be left undone to effect such Congressional action with regard to them as the people of this State desire. From all parts of North Carolina omes the demand for more post offices aud postal routes. It is one of the greatest needs of the country. We cannot insist too urgently or too often at Washington for improvement in this respect. The restoration of the "dollar of the fathers," to its old place in the coinage, is generally recognized by the Democracy as one of the ways of reviving prosperity. Hon. A. M. LAWS OF 1876-'77.

We learn that a second edition of the laws enacted at the last session of the General Assembly is in course of publilation under the superintendence of the Secretary of State. This has been ren-dered necessary by the small number originally printed, the increased num-ber of magistra es created under the amendments to the organic law, as well as by grave errors which were made in the print of the first edition regarding the new election law. We learn these facts from a gentleman from Raleigh, now in the city .- Wilmington Star, Sept. 26th.

The Star, usually correct, does us, and probably the Secretary of State by implication, very great injustice in the above statement. The facts are that the public printer was directed and is now engaged in printing a thousand copies of the laws of 1876-'77, to supply the deficiency created by the increase in were not more than four pennyweights of the specimens, but all of this was the number of magistrates appointed by the Legislature; and not because of grave errors in the print of the first edition regarding the new election law.

There are about one thousand newly appointed magistrates in the State who have not as yet been supplied with copies of the Laws of 1876-'77. Here is revealed one of the chief causes why the tide of emigration does not flow this way. North Carolina is misrepresented in the Northern States. We are held up to the world as a pine barren-a worn-out old State-a poor, undesirable country. The experience of settlers here is to the contrary, and that experience needs to be well known in the North, to destroy the false impressions created by those who slander us. A thoroughly prepared, and properly authenticated book from the State agricultural department, descriptive of the State, and widely disseminated, would go far towards repelling falsehood.

A few enterprising, energetic men, with some capital to help build up one of the best manufacturing and trading towns in the State. We have two Kailroads, making it a competing point for both Northern and Southern shipping, giving a great advantage over other points on the line of either Railroad, Anticipating the growth and business of the place I have made some very handsome improvements which I will sell very cheap, and on long time to enterprising parties. From 6,000 to 10,000 bales of cotton may be handled in trade every year.

No. 1 is a three-story brick building with tin roof, 40x129 ft; two large store rooms on first story. The two upper floors are weil suited for a large Tobacco Factory; situated in 400 feet of the Chatham Depot.

No. 2 is a new three-story brick hotel, mansard roof with 14 rooms. Dining room 24 x30; all elegantly finished. Situated in 200 feet of both railroads. Will rent or sell.

No. 3 is a commodious dwelling with 11 rooms, four of which are 20x20 feet; has a large cellar, a lawn of 1½ acres nicely shaded and set in grass, two large barns, two clover lots, orchard of nice fruits, vines and straw-derries, containing 40 acres of well-improved land under a new plank fence.

No. 4 is a plot of 100 acres under a plank fence, lying on the N. C. R. R., for 4 mile, on which land is two elegant building sites.

No. 5 and 6 are situated in a beautiful grove of native forest trees, each with 7 rooms, smoke house, &c., and are very desirable residences; in 150 feet of the Chatham Railroad.

No. 7 is an elegant residence of 9 rooms on Steam Power

'A discovery of great importance has en accidentally made by the British onsul at Nicolaieff, Russia, and reportby him to his government. The conul in his report says that during the ummer of 1875 a disease broke out in ne neighborhood of Nicolaieff among the cattle and horses, the former be-coming suddenly bald and the latter sing their manes and tails. The conal had a Russian servant who had the ty habit of wiping his kerosenemeared hands upon the few locks re ing on his bald head, whenever he rimed the lamps, with the result that six weeks he had a finer head of ered to have possessed before. The onsul then tried the remedy on two paniel dogs which had become suddenbald with wonderful success. Feelassured there was something in the medy he suggested to the owners of e cattle and horses the use of kerosene. of only did it stay the spread of the sease, but it effected a quick and rad cal cure on the animals attacked. The roleum should be of the most refined merican quailities, rubbed in vigorousand quickly with the palm of the and, and applied at intervals of three days, six or seven times in all, except in e cases of horses' tails and manes, when more applications may be requi-

When the hair has fallen off from some cause, but the bulbs of it remain healthy, the application of kerosene may stimulate a new growth of hair. Dupuytren's receipt was based on the same ciple, that of stimulating the althy bulbs, or more popularly speakthe roots" of the hair remaining dormant in the scalp. Dupuytren's hair was composed of castor oil and alcohol, with a few drachms of tincture of cantharides, the latter being the stimulating property.

THE EXTRA SESSION. What Matters Will be Brought Before it.

[National Republican.] It has already been mentioned that at he extra session in October the President will not send in his annual message, but will transmit merely the reasons why the extra session was called and submit the estimates of the War Department for the army appropriation. It is learned that in addition to this ere will be sent in several other executive papers of interest Included in them will be a communication from the Secretary of the Navy, calling attention to the deficiencies in the appropriation for the pay of naval officers for the closing three months of the last fiscal year. The Secretary of State will present the correspondence on the subject of American representation at the Paris exposi , and urging the immediate action of Congress in supplying the necessary legislation. The Secretary of the Interior will lay before Congress the necessity of making some modification in the pension laws, so as to facilitate the eximination of pension cases, of which fifteen thousand are now awaiting examination. The correspondence with the various State authorities at the time of the railroad strikes, and the reports of the United States army officers in command at the scenes of the disturbances, will also be sent to Congress. Goldsboro Messenger: The Raleigh DAILY NEWS comes to us enlarged to a 32 colum paper. Glad to see such evi surance Company. Some two or three weeks ago the News had an article in regard to a difficulty between this company and some of its policy-holders in Enfield, and the day following, an answer from an agent of the company on the same subject. In further explanation of the difficulties alluded to, the company ask the publication of the letter and certificate below, with which we cheerfully comply, first copying from the Norfolk Landmark the following in regard to the company: 'The Farmville is an excellent and well-managed corporation, and has won an enviable name for itself both at home and abroad; and the judicious course pursued by its officers has largely increased its assets, even during the past two years of dullness.'

FARMVILLE, Sep. 25th, 1877.

Editor of Daily News:

Dear Sir: My attention has just bee (It is a new way of attacking an insurance company before the merits of the case are determined.) This company honestly believes that the claim made of it is an excessive one, and this belief the case, backed by estimates made by three competent builders, each of whom place the loss far below the amount claimed. Now, sir, is it to be supposed that a company is going to pay the whole amount claimed, under such circumstances as these? Why, then, attempt to manufacture public opinion against a company before the case has been tried by the proper tribunal? When a jury from your own State has decided the just liability of this company, the people of your State will find that we will willingly and promptly meet the same.

This company has been in existence six years. It has paid over $200,000 in losses. Of that amount $29,510.74 has been paid in the State of North Carolina. A list of the p licies paid in your State can be seen in the office of Maj. R. G. Hay & Co. We have not had a Blacknall, for $200. UPIVERS: TY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 25, 1877. To the Trustees, Alumni and friends of th University of North Carolina:

To the Trustees, Alumni and friends of the University of North Carolina:

The increasing prosperity of the University has created a need for a medium through which its objects should be made known. To this end the two Literary Societies of the University have determined to re-establish the "University Magazine," once an ornament to the University and State.

It is proposed in publishing facts connected with the University and State.

It is proposed in publishing facts connected with the University to make the Mayazine the organ through which the historical incidents of the State may be made known and perpetuated. At present there is in the State no periodical of this kind and the need for one is patent to all.

The contributors of the Magazine will be some of the most prominent and talented gentlemen and ladies of the State. The Societies have elected three editors each, and as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained the Magazine will be ssued.

The price of the Magazine will be $2.51, IN ADVANCE, per year.

Trus ees, Alumini and friends, the students of your University call upon you to contribute this small amount to the support of an enterprise, the ends of which are so beneficial.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Rufus H. Jones, plaintiff, vs. Carter B. Harrison, administrator of Bria Green, and others, defendants, Carter B. Harrison, administrator of Brian Green, and others, defendants.

The object of this action is to subject the estate, real and personal of the intestate Brian Green, which descended to his heirs at law or were delivered to his next of kin, or for which they are severally liable as well as the sureties to their refunding bonds, to the payment of one-half of the Judgment recovered by the plaintiff against the decendants. W. F. Green and C. B. Harrison, administrators of said Brian Green, at January term, 1876, of this court for $1,331.04, and interest on $1,187.78, principal money thereof, from January 3, 1876, and costs, the other half having been paid by said W. F. Green. And it appearing by affidavit that the defendant, Marcus M. Green is a non-resident and cannot be served with process and is a necessary party to the action, it is ordered that publication be made in the Raleign News, a newspaper published in the Raleign News, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, once a week for six weeks, notifying the said Marcus M. Green to be and appear before said court at the next term thereof, to be held at the Court-house in Raleigh on the eighth Monday after the second Monday in October. Then and there to demur to or answer the plaintiff's complaint, or ludgment will be rendered against him according to the prayer thereof for his said default.
